

2 Cultists Kill 6 in Kogi Community

No fewer than six persons have been killed by suspected cultists on Thursday night in Dekina local government council of the state. THISDAY reliably gathered yesterday that the attack occurred at about 10pm at Anyingba on as some cultist invaded some residential places shooting sporadically. According to sources, six persons were killed during the clash between cult members. It was gathered that the victims were gunned down at various places in the community. According to the source, One person was reportedly killed at Ofekipi, one at Kaduna Efekpe, two at Anwa Muslumi, one at Ijebu-ode and one at Ofeko Anyigba. The source further disclosed that some cultists at Kogi State University Anyigba invited some of their colleagues from another school to come to their rescue. The attack was said to be more of revenge mission following an attack on some members of a particular cult group sometime ago.

BSN Awards Business Executives Scholarships