

Policeman, Motorcyclist Feared Dead as Robbers Attack Bank in Lagos

November 14, 2019 5:24 pm

0

Sunday Ehigiator

A policeman and motorcyclist were feared dead in a robbery attack on a bank in Falomo, Lagos Thursday.

The robbery which occurred Thursday afternoon, was the first to be recorded in Lagos in recent times.

In a short video trending online, some police officers were seen lifting the affected officer into a van, at the scene of the incident. However, it could not be ascertained if he was still alive.

According to an eyewitness account, the robbers numbering about six, arrived the premises of the bank at about 2pm on motorcycles, and began to fire sporadically in the area.

The policeman was said to have been shot by the robbers at a close range, while attempting to retrieve his rifle. The motorcyclist was said to have been hit by a stray bullet.

Efforts to reach the Lagos State police spokesperson, Bala Elkana, a Deputy Superintendent of Police, proved abortive as his lines could not be reached as of the ttime of filing this report.

Share this:

Facebook

Reddit

Google

Twitter

Print

Pinterest

Email

WhatsApp

Skype

LinkedIn

Tumblr

Pocket

Telegram

Previous article

House Approves Operation Positive Identification

Next article

Guild of Fine Artists Set for Own Gallery Opening in Lagos

RELATED ARTICLES

MORE FROM AUTHOR

Kogi Poll: Court Begins Hearing on Suit Challenging Yahaya Bello's Eligibility

Buhari Mourns Alex Akinyele

Snatch Ballot Boxes and Lose Your Life, Police Warn

