

Two Killed, Six Injured as Trucks Collide With Bus in Lagos

September 3, 2020 5:00 am

0

Two persons were killed and six others injured in a road accident in the Anthony area of Lagos State.

THISDAY gathered that the accident occurred when four vehicles involving two trucks, a tanker and a commercial bus had a collision.

This was confirmed in a statement issued yesterday by the Director-General of the Lagos State Emergency Management Agency (LASEMA), Dr. Olufemi Oke-Osanyintolu.

"The agency received distress calls about the above incident and upon arrival at the scene of incident, discovered that a four vehicle accident had occurred comprising two tipper trucks, one with registration number AKM-741ZT, a second tipper with unknown registration number, a loaded tanker with unknown registration number and commercial bus with unknown registration," the statement partly read.

Oke-Osanyitolu explained that emergency responders comprising the Nigeria Police, Fire Service, LRU Fire Unit joined LASEMA at the scene of the incident.

Share this:

---

Previous article

FG Approves $3.1bn for
Customs Automation, Targets
$176bn Revenue

Next article

Presidency: No Buhari's Aide
Tested Positive to COVID-19