

Mob kills policeman

By Jimitota Onoyume

PORT HARCOURT — A POLICE man was killed by a mob in Port Harcourt yesterday. The deceased was driving an Isuzu car, which rammed into a motor-bike from the rear. The bike somersaulted resulting in the death of a female passenger, her child and the okada rider.

The incident provoked passengers who descended on the policeman and lynched him on the spot. An occupant of the car escaped death by the whiskers at the scene.

An eyewitness said: "You

Continues on Page 15

Mob kills policeman

Continues' from Page 1

should have been here to see what happened. There was really no reason for the top speed by the policeman. See how his action led to the death of the three persons on the spot."

The corpses have all been reportedly deposited at various mortuary.

PROCE55
WE ARE IN THE
THAT IS SETTLED

Also construction, consti-tional lawyer Mr. Ola Agbakoba (SAN), described the imability to establish a Credit Bureau in Nigeria, over the years, as a legal failure. According to him, the workshops was key because even though there had been various efforts to establish a Credit Bureau in the country to support loans to customers.

Accordings to him, the workshops in other to out-do one another to provide more information on their customer's tactics by providing large, communications, small and therefore did not yield organisations in the mort-gagge, and medium enterprises and other sectors were providing loans to customers. In the country over the years, there laws in the country to support loans to customers. In the National Credit Bureau in the country over the years, there were no laws, particularly giving out loans to customers. In the MS of the CBN, though it added that even the banks could community, particularly giving out loans to customers. In the
MS of the CBN, though
it added that even the
banks could com-