

One killed in renewed Bodo communal crisis

By Jimitota Onoyume

PORT HARCOURT—CRISIS has again erupted in Bodo community in Ogoni with the killing of a forty six year old man by suspected cultists. Sources told the Vanguard that he was beheaded in the early hours of yesterday. The reason behind the callous murder is still under investigation. Powers to the EFCC to arrest and search without warrant.

could not be ascertained. It could also not be confirmed if the deceased had any link with any of the warring cult groups. It would be recalled that two cult groups had recently engaged themselves in a battle of supremacy that lasted weeks until two weeks ago when peace returned to the area after the intervention of the state and elders from the area.