

Couple found dead mysteriously in P-Harcourt

By Jimitota Onoyume

PORT HARCOURT—A couple in Port Harcourt were found dead in their bed yesterday.

Sources said they were last seen the previous night when the husband was complaining of waist pain.

This sad development was coming barely days after a similar incident occurred in Port Harcourt where three members of a family died in their sleep.

It would also be recalled that a family of five had lost their lives under similar circumstance this year in the state capital.

Already there is palpable fear in the state if these deaths had anything to do with any special meal consumed.

Some persons who spoke to Vanguard said with the frequency there was urgent need for agencies like NAFDAC and other allied structures to thoroughly investigate the situations to see that they are averted in the future.
