

Another student killed in RSUST

By Jimitota Onoyume

PORT HARCOURT—STUDENTS of the Rivers State University of Science and Technology have been asked to vacate the main campus of the university following the killing of a final year law student by suspected cultists.

Until his demise yesterday, Vanguard gathered the student was a member of the Man O War, a campus security organisation.

He was reportedly murdered at the back gate of the school. The killing reportedly provoked unrest in the university as members of the Man O War literally went on rampage in search of suspected cult students on the campus. Sources said they pounced on one yesterday morning and almost lynched him to death. The restiveness on the campus student sources said was why the university ordered them to go home. The killing came after about three other similar incidents on that campus this year. It would also be noted that barely a day to the brutal murder suspected cultists literally held residents on Azikiwi and other adjoining streets, very close to the school, hostage for several hours as they shot sporadically. They left in their trail two dead.
