BENIN—One of the drivers in the convoy of Edo State Deputy Governor, Mr. Lucky Imasuen yesterday died when the convoy was involved in an accident.

The Deputy Governor was said to have left Edo State yesterday morning to Abuja for an official engagement when the accident occurred at about 4:00am.

According to reports, the back-up jeep in his convoy of about eight vehicles had lost one of its tyres, leading to the death of one of his drivers, simply identified as Julius and said to be a long-serving driver in the Deputy Governor's office.

Some other persons in the Deputy Governor's convoy who were said to have been injured were reportedly taken to hospital for treatment.

At press time, the exact spot where the accident occurred could not be ascertained, nor could it be ascertained whether the Deputy Governor continued his journey after the accident or returned to Benin.
