

Adebayo, ANCLA chief killed by robbers

THE Deputy National President, Association of Customs Licensed Agents, ANCLA and seasoned freight forwarder, Chief Olumide Adebayo was on Thursday night shot dead allegedly by armed robbers.

Chief Adebayo met his death at Ilasamaja area of Lagos on his way to his Festac town residence when he ran into the robbers in the heat of an operation.

It was gathered that no item was removed from the late freight forwarder, who personally drove his Mercedes Benz.

When contacted, a distraught ANLC National President, Chief Eames Elochukwu confirmed the story.
