Two Osun PDP members shot

Written by Gbenga Olarinoye

No fewer than two members of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP), in Osun State are on danger list an aftermath of various degrees of injuries sustained from gunshots when two factions of the party clashed in Iree, in the Boripe Local Government Area of the state.

Unconfirmed report added that a woman lost her life during the fracas where dangerous weapons such as guns, cutlasses and charms were freely used.

It was gathered that the party had on Monday called a reconciliatory meeting at Iragbiji between the two factions.

Vanguard also learnt that temper rose at the meeting when one of the factions accused the party Secretary, Chief Yinka Adejo, of allegedly monopolising all political appointments due to the council, particularly his community, Iree.

The allegation, which was made in the presence of the state Chairman, Alhaji Ademola Rasaq, did not go down well with members of the Adejo's faction who were alleged to have resolved to vent their anger on the other faction when they return home.
