Asaba—A middle-aged man who allegedly killed his own three year old son in a farm recently at Kwale, Delta State has slumped and died.

Vanguard gathered that he slumped in the same farm where he butchered his son with matchet when he led police detectives on investigation to the very spot where the havoc was committed.

Although police detectives, according to eye witness, actually saw blood stain all over the place but could not find the body of the boy. But the suspect shocked the detectives as he suddenly slumped while answering questions.

He was however rushed to Kwale Central hospital where he died later that same day. Meanwhile, the state Police Command's spokesman, Mr. Charles Muka said three persons have been arrested in connection with GSM fraud.

According to him, "a self confessed fraudster (names withheld) sent threat message to somebody demanding N1.5m.

The complaint was reported at Area command Warri and targeted victim paid N201,000 to the UBA account number as directed and through the cooperation of UBA officials. All the three suspects were arrested at UBA Umukoro branch Port Harcourt and will appear in court soon.
