

Nursing mother killed In Ebonyi

BY PETER OKUTU,
Abakaliki

A nursing mother (name withheld) was weekend, killed by a lorry along Owne road in Abakaliki metropolis of Ebonyi state.

The lorry with registration number: XA 724 – ZLL suspected to be owned by Ebonyi State Environmental Protection Agency, EBSEPA carried out the dastardly act after loading wastes from some sites located along Abakaliki/Enugu expressway before the incident occurred.

Saturday Vanguard learnt that the lorry on getting to the junction leading to Virgin land Hotel and St. Mulumba Church knocked down the woman whose name was not immediately ascertained but resided at Hausa Quarters, Azuiyiokwu. Meanwhile, the driver on realizing the gravity of his crime took to his heels so as to avoid being lynched by irate youths in the area or arrested by the police.

At the scene of the incident, a large crowd gathered, expressing sympathy over the death of the woman who according to sources was preparing for her child's dedication before the incident occurred.
