No fewer than two persons were confirmed dead over the week after a commercial speed boat that was conveying passengers from Kirikiri water side to Aloro village capsized mid-stream.

Reports from the Marine Police station, Ikoyi, Lagos, revealed that a commercial speed boat that was conveying ten passengers from kirikiri water side to Aloro village capsized mid-stream.

Some of the passengers were however rescued by sympathizers who swung paulo With all due respect to Kalu, he appear to be too naive or lacks clear knowledge of the situation on ground. The affected workers have been living in Abia State for a considerable number of into action after the boat capsized. Two people lost their lives at the accident.

The bewildered passengers, some of whom have not experienced marine accident, were shocked and could not narrate their experiences when approached.

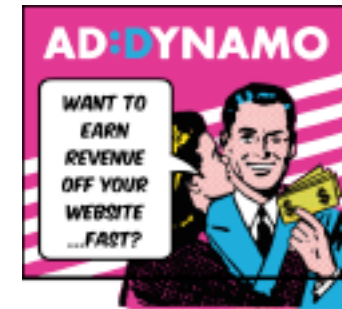

Unconfirmed sources gave the names of the victims simply as; Jimmy and Segun, while there are speculations that more people may have drowned also. One of the rescued passengers however gave details of how the incident happened. According to him, “we were having a wonderful ride until we found ourselves in the river. I
