BAUCHI—TRAGEDY struck, yesterday, when armed robbers stormed Gololo village in Gamawa Local Government Area of Bauchi State, killing one person and injuring two others.

Eye-witnesses said the robbers arrived the village about 10 p.m. in two motor cycles and began a house to house search, collecting valuables and money from their victims.

However, the vigilante groups on duty in the area, who got wind of the robbery, cut the tyres of their (robbers), motor cycles.

When some of their victims started shouting for help, the bandits started shooting sporadically, which eventually led to the killing of one person with two others sustaining injuries.

It was gathered that the bandits fled into the bush, abandoning their motor cycles. They later escaped through another gate-away car which had followed them to the town.

Vanguard gathered that the robbers collected over N1million from the person killed and N700,000 from another person they beat to a pulp.

Business booms water sellers buying and consumption of assorted drinks, including table or "pure" water from supermarkets and shops have increased, a situation that made producers to increase their supply to their customers.

It was, however, learnt that despite several pure water factories in the state, commodity was not enough, even as their prices had not been increased.
