BENIN—UNKNOWN gunmen suspected to be cultists, Monday, in Benin, Edo State, shot and killed an administrative staff of University of Benin Teaching Hospital, UBTH.

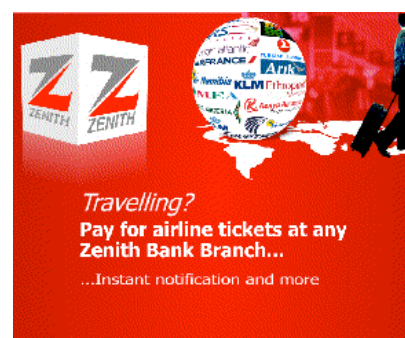

The victim, who was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Osayande, was allegedly shot in front of her husband at their Akpata Street residence in Egor area of Benin.

Vanguard learnt that the gunmen, who rode on a motorcycle, said: "That is the person, shoot her," and they opened fire on her. She died instantly.

It was gathered that the son to the victim had a fracas with a boy, who parked his motorcycle in front of their residence before she was killed.

Husband to the victim, Mr. Osayande, said he sent his son to get him some planks and the son noticed that a stranger parked at the entrance to their residence.

He said: “My son only asked him to give way but the stranger told him to shut up. He threatened to deal with my son and he came back in a few minutes and shot my wife.”

The perpetrator of the dastardly act should be unmasked and brought to justice.The activities of cult in tertiary institution is worrisome and government should wake up from her slumber and save the soul of the defenseless citizens of Nigeria. I pray that God should give the family of the deceased the fortitude to bear the sudden and irreparable loss.

, it was for the help of the people to fight against the oppressors, to help the voiceless citizens to fight to gain their right from the oppressors but now, the cultists are the ones oppressing people with the evil power they have posses, that will certainly not do them any good well ,i pray that God touches the heart of every each of them and convert them from the damon they have sold their spirit to.
