LAGOS — Oronna Street in Abule-Egba area of Lagos was, yesterday, thrown into confusion after a 60-year-old man who allegedly killed his wife over his missing N500, locked himself up with the corpse.

Reports said fight broke out after the man identified as Gbadebo Elegbede, accused his 17-year-old son of stealing his N500 at about 7am. His wife, Maria, was said to have defended his son, an action that reportedly led to a verbal confrontation with her husband, which degenerated into a scuffle.

In the process, Gbadebo was said to have hit his wife with a hard object on the face, causing her to slump.

His son, Johnson, was said to have attempted to lift his mother from the floor only to discover that she was motionless and bleeding from the mouth and nose.

Johnson reportedly ran out to alert neighbours to come to his mother's help, but they met the door of the apartment locked from inside, with Gbadebo threatening to kill anyone who attempted to force the door open.

Eye witnesses said some of the deceased's relatives who rushed to the scene were also prevented from seeing Maria's corpse as the door was still locked.

Policemen at nearby divisions who were contacted said they had not been informed about the incident yesterday evening.

An eye witness said, "this is not the fight time he is doing this. The first time they lost their daughter, he locked her up in the room preventing everyone, including his wife from coming inside.

Till date no one can tell what he did with her corpse. . As you can see, everyone is afraid of him in this area”, the eye witness who simply gave her name as Nwankego told Vanguard on the telephone.

As at 4pm, Vanguard gathered that Gbadebo was still inside the room with Maria’s corpse.

Don't expect any good news from any country including Nigeria. These are the signs of the end. Iniquities shall abound and the love of many shall wax cold. Every man should amend his ways before it is too late. The signs of His coming is all over there. Repent before you cry "had I known".

Well spoken Felix, people are not conscious of these signs. The compass is every where pointing towards the coming of the Messiah. The devil is all out, he recognize that his time is up and he is doing everything to gather souls into hell.
