ADO EKITI – A 46-year old woman, Mrs. Eunice Titilayo Ogundele, was allegedly raped then murdered at Igede Ekiti, weekend, by yet to be identified persons.

According to the husband of the deceased, Mr. Michael Ogundele, his wife left home in the early hours of Friday for a church service at her pastor's residence.

He said she was allegedly hit with a pestle on the head by her assailants on the way.

Ogundele in tears said: "Yesterday (Thursday) which was a market day, she went to the market and returned home to rest.

"This morning (Friday), we went our different ways after I opened the door a little after five o'clock. She left for an early morning church service at her pastor's residence.

"We went our separate ways at Igede-Ado road. I did not know I was seeing her for the last time. Few minutes to six they called me to come to somewhere in the town. I went and met my wife dead with two deep wounds on her head."

The Police Public Relations Officer in the state, Mr. Victor Olu Babayemi, who confirmed the incident said a suspect has been arrested and is making confessions.

Babayemi said: "I can confirm that someone is now in custody in respect of the rape and murder of a woman at Igede Ekiti and is making useful confessions.

"We are trying to see if other arrests could be made in the course of the investigation which is ongoing."
