We killed six insurgents, says military

The Defence Headquarters said yesterday that the military has launched a “Specialised Campaign” against Boko Haram. The campaign is being carried out simultaneously in Yobe, Borno and Adamawa states – three states which are under state of emergency to curb the Boko Haram insurgency – to apprehend the terrorists who attacked a school in Yobe, killing scores of pupils. Also, the Defence Headquarters confirmed that troops killed six Boko Haram fighters and captured two others after attacking Michika in Adamawa State on Wednesday. One soldier and three civilians died in...
