ABAKALIKI — A middle aged man (names withheld), yesterday, died in Abakaliki while having marathon sex with a female student of Ebonyi State University, EBSU, Abakaliki.

The incident, it was gathered, happened at the girl's hostel room near the Presco campus of the university.

Sources at the hostel, where the incident occurred, said the man died in the day time inside the room of the said female student located at Goddy Ogbaga Avenue during a marathon sex with her.

It was gathered that the lover-girl, after the incident, took the body of the deceased to his car before she proceeded to report the incident to the police. She was immediately arrested and is currently helping the police in the investigation of the incident.

A hostel resident, who did not want his name in print, told Vanguard: "It threw the entire hostel residents into confusion as everybody began to run helter-skelter to evade police arrest. Some of the hostel residents have been arrested by police."

"I did not know what was happening until when police stormed our hostel and began to arrest everybody on sight. But from what I heard the man visited the girl and in the process of making love, he died.

"I cannot say for sure if the man was a mere acquaintance to the girl or not. All I can say for sure is that I have not been seeing the man visiting the girl in the past.

"I don't know the girl very well because our hostel is very large. It is a three-storey building and many students are living there. I do not know who is who except my friends. So I don't know the name of the girl, department or her level in school."

Police spokesman in the state, ASP Chris Anyanwu, confirmed the incident but said he had not been fully briefed on the
