ABA— Tragedy struck at Umuode community in Osisioma Ngwa council area of Abia State when a middle aged man identified as Hanson Jacob lost his life four days after his lover's husband attacked him with an iron rod.

The incident, which took place at 49, Umuode Road, Aba, was said to have led to some neighbours fleeing the area for fear of Police arrest.

It was gathered that Mr. Aro Frank, who hails from Ishiagu in Ebonyi State, has been suspecting his wife, Chika, and the deceased of having extra-marital affair which became a common gossip in the neighbourhood.

Frank was said to have warned his wife on several occasions but the latter denied having any affair with the deceased.

A resident of the area told our correspondent: "It is like Frank has been monitoring his wife and her lover. It was also possible that somebody alerted him. That day, he suddenly returned home unannounced and caught his wife and her lover in the room making love.

"The man attacked Hanson with an iron rod and inflicted several injuries on him. Hanson was heavily hit that he couldn't walk and was later taken to the hospital while the husband and the wife handed themselves over to Police at Osisioma Ngwa Division after the incident."

It was further gathered that Hanson, who was admitted at the Abia State Teaching Hospital (ABSUTH), died four days later.

Contacted, Abia State Commissioner of Police, Adamu Ibrahim, who confirmed Hanson's death, added that Frank and his wife were already in police net.

He disclosed that Police were still investigating the incident.
