

100 suspected members of Boko Haram in a convoy of Toyota Hilux vehicles, laden with Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs) and motorcycles, attacked the Yobe capital, torching some buildings at Bukar Abba Ibrahim University (BAIU), the state owned radio station, telecom masts, a police mobile base and a primary school, sources said.

13 On Tuesday, at about 11:25am, 22 people were feared killed while 48 were others injured when two female suicide bombers detonated IEDs at Layin Yankaji gate of the Monday Market, Maiduguri.

The blasts came about one week after twin explosions