One roasted, another injured in Lagos multiple auto crash

By Bose Adelaja

LAGOS—ONE person was roasted while another sustained varying degrees of injury, yesterday, in Lagos, during an inferno involving two articulated vehicles and a Nissan pick up.

The incident which occurred at Oshodi at about 1am involving a PMS-laden tanker with number plate XT936SMK, a truck ferrying two 20ft containers with number plate KT 365MUS and a Nissan pick up van with number plate TST548XJ.

According to eye witness, the tanker and the truck were from Bolade end while the van was from NAFDAC end of the road.

Tragedy struck when the tanker tried to negotiate the bend leading to Cappa as its tank fell off spilling its content. The truck which was behind the tanker waited at the spot pending when the situation will normalise.

However, the pick up van that was on a high speed suddenly rammed into the tanker causing an explosion that severely burnt the trucks and part of the van.
