LAGOS—Tragedy struck in Lagos, weekend, when a fast moving Private Sector Participant, PSP, truck, under the supervision of the Lagos State Waste Management Authority, LAWMA, crushed dead an Okadaman (commercial motorcyclist) at Council Bus Stop, Egbe-Idimu, Local Council Development Area, LCDA.

The victim, simply, identified as Lekan, said to be in his early 30s, was on his way to his newly-rented apartment in the area when the incident happened. His widow is nursing a six-month-old baby.

According to an eyewitness, Mr. Shehu Balogun, the incident, which happened at about 7p.m. on Saturday, resulted in pandemonium as every Okada rider in the area went on rampage, attacking other motorists in anger.

Balogun narrated: “The death was avoidable. I saw the Okadaman struggling with the PSP truck over right-of-way.

Provoked to death

“One of the motor boys, who usually perched by the side and atop of the truck, in anger over the Okadaman’s daring act, made some derogatory remarks that reportedly angered him.

“He abandoned his motorcycle by the side of the road with a television set he was taking to his newly-rented apartment, and gave a hot chase after the truck to attack the motor boy.

“He caught up with the truck and held the motor boy by the collar. While they were struggling, the Okadaman lost his grip and fell on the road. Unfortunately, the moving truck ran over him, crushing his head.

“He was left in a pool of his blood, before policemen from Idimu Police Station came to remove the corpse.”
