

Boy, 2, dies in well in Kano

ON MARCH 12, 2019 1:06 PMIN NEWS1 COMMENT

Tragedy befell a family at Yar'akwa Balangu Quarters, Tarauni Local Government Area, Kano State, on Monday evening, when their two-year-old son, Abdullahi Jibril, fell into a well and died.

Photo of well that Spanish toddler fell into

The spokesman for the Kano State Fire Service, Alhaji Saidu Mohammed, disclosed this in an interview with Newsmen on Tuesday in Kano.

“We received a distress call at Kofar Nasarawa Division from one Malam Umar Umar, at about 3:40 pm that a boy had fallen into a well.

“On receiving the information, we quickly sent our rescue team to the scene at about 3:50 pm,” Mohammed said.

ALSO READ: Badagry will enjoy dividend of democracy under Sanwo-Olu's Govt, says Rep-elect

The spokesman said that the little Jibril was playing near the well in their house and mistakenly fell inside.

He also said that the body of the little boy was recovered by the team and later handed over to his father, Alhaji Jibril Aliyu.

Mohammed advised parents to stop their children from playing around the wells, endeavour to raise barriers around them beyond the height of kids, and always lock the lids. (NAN)

IDOWU BANKOLE