THE body of a woman was recovered from the scene of an accident involving a wine colore station wag-on Volvo vehicle on Christmas day. The crash occurred along the Lagos Third Mainland Bridge 6:31pm on December 25. According to Lagos State Emergency Management Agency, LASEMA, Director General, Dr. Femi Oke-Osanyintolu, the agency, in response to an emergency call regarding a fatal road accident, recovered the body of the victim, identified as Amina from the scene of the accident along the Adeniji Adele road, inward Oworoshoki, Lagos Island on the Third Mainland Bridge.

Describing the crash as a 'freak accident,' Oke-Osanyintolu said the accident occurred at about 6.31p.m on Christmas day, apparently, due to the driver's recklessness in an attempt to overtake the ill-fated car.

LASEMA boss narrated: "Going by the incident site reports and accounts of driver of the car with registration number GGE 975 BE, the car somersaulted, and the deceased, the sole passenger beside him would have survived if she had not panicked.
