Baby, placenta found inside drainage in Lagos

By Esther Onyegbula

BARELY 24 hours after a young girl dumped her twin babies in a drainage in Rukpokwu Town, Elikpawodu community in Port Harcourt, Rivers State, another baby has been recovered from a drainage in Orile area of Lagos.

The baby was found, yesterday, morning, by a woman at Shobodu Street, Orile area of Lagos State.

It was learned that the woman raised an alarm which attracted people in the community.

The placenta was still attached to the body of the baby. The remains of the baby, which had already turned green, was recovered by one of the female residents with a rake and put inside a black poly bag.

According to a resident, Adisa Ridwan, who spoke with Vanguard at the scene, at about 10:30 am today (Tuesday), we heard a lady screamed and pointed towards the gutter directly in front of her residence.

"Many of us ran there and found out that a fetus with its placenta was what she had seen in the gutter."
