The military has yet to react to the development as attempts to reach the authorities of the JTF were unsuccessful.

Meanwhile, a civil society group Coalition of Niger Delta Activists has condemned the menace of sea piracy in some parts of Ekeremor Local Government Area, regretting that the menace has disrupted the socio-economic activities in the areas.

Leader of the coalition, Alhaji Yusuf Eregbene, in a statement in Yenagoa said: “Contractors carrying food, water and essential items in supply boats to oil companies are not spared, workers and security operatives and the JTF are also attacked, intimidated and violently robbed on the waterways. Sometimes the government security forces JTF are confronted maimed or even killed.

“The communities indicate that the people are overwhelmed by the ferocity and frequency of the sea-pirates attacks in the last three months particularly in along Ramos River, Agge, Aghoro area and Dodo River.”
