

Suspected ritualists behead lady in Delta

By Ochuko Akuopha

OZORO — POLICE in Delta State Command have recovered the decomposing body of a lady, who was beheaded by suspected ritualists at Ozoro, headquarters of Isoko North Local Government Area, Delta State.

The headless body of the yet to be identified lady, sources said, was found in an uncompleted building in the Eterieve area of Urutu quarters in the community, Sunday.

Confirming the recovery, yesterday, acting Police Public Relations Officer of the state command, Mr Bright Edafe, said the corpse of the lady was found with her head chopped off.

He said the police were on the trail of those behind the dastardly act.

The development has caused panic in the community, which hosts the Delta State Polytechnic that was recently upgraded to Delta State University of Science and Technology.
