

Housewife hacks husband's new wife to death with hoe

By Dayo Johnson

AKURE—A housewife, Nanko Emmanuel, who allegedly killed her husband's new wife, Napre Emmanuel, with a hoe in a fight at Sunshine Garden Estate, Oda, Akure, was yesterday paraded by the Ondo State Police Command in Akure.

Speaking during the parade of some suspects arrested for various offences in the state, the state Police Commissioner, Bolaji Salami, said Nanko, out of jealousy, first used a wooden object to hit her co-wife on the head and also used "a hoe to cut her head and her body, which resulted to her death.

Nanko Happiness, the suspect.

"The suspect was arrested and is currently in Police custody while the corpse was deposited at the General Hospital mortuary, Akure.

According to Salami, 12 of the suspects paraded were apprehended for kidnapping cases, three for murder issues, six for armed robbery and four cases of assault on policemen.

All the suspects, he said, would be charged to court immediately judicial workers suspend their ongoing nationwide strike.