

2 Police arrest suspected killer of 13-yr-old pregnant girl in A-Ibom

By Chioma Onuegbu

UYO—Akwa Ibom State Police Command has arrested one Sunday Sampson for allegedly impregnating a 13-year-old girl and secretly procuring an abortion that led to her death.

The Police Public Relations Officer, Mr Odiko MacDon, who disclosed this, yesterday, in Uyo, said the command also arrested three suspects in connection with the invasion and robbery at the NYSC lodge, Udo Ekong Street, off Information Drive, Uyo last July.

His words: "One Sunday George Sampson has been arrested by the Nsit Ubium division of the Akwa Ibom State Police Command. The suspect impregnated a 13-year-old girl and secretly procured an abortion for her and she died in the process.

"The Commissioner of Police is miffed at this development and has asked that the matter be transferred to the homicide section for discreet investigation.

"It would be recalled that some time ago, on July 6, 2022, at about 01:30 am to be precise, suspected armed robbers invaded the NYSC lodge, located at Udo Ekong Street, off information Drive in Uyo LGA, damaged the doors of the partially fenced building and dispossessed corpors of their phones, jewellery, cash and other valuables.

"The Commissioner of Police, Mr Olatoye Durosinmi, who personally visited the scene in company of the state NYSC Coordinator, vowed to bring the perpetrators to book and has since then remained committed.

"In a meticulous investigation, the Anti-Robbery Squad of the command arrested the following suspects, who have been on the run and responsible for terrorizing Aka Community and environs: Aniefior Okon Willie a.k.a Akpan Efa', Iniobong Okon Eden, a.k.a 'Orok' and Joshua Bassey Asuquo, a.k.a 'Sim Card' or 'immortal.'"