NNEWI—THE Igbakwu Community in Ayamelum Local Government Area Anambra State, has rejected the Anambra State Police Command's Autopsy report of its slain 70-year-old son, Daniel Mbanefo.

The community has therefore appealed to the Inspector General of Police to constitute an Independent Investigation Team to conduct an autopsy on the corpse of Mbanefo, allegedly murdered by a member of the community that has been terrorizing them.

The Igbakwu community also called on the police boss to ensure that the independent autopsy of the deceased is not obstructed, just as it called on the IGP to disband the Homicide Investigation Teams at the Criminal Investigation Department of Anambra State Police Command Awka and that of Zone 13 Police Zonal Command, Ukpou, also in Anambra State for their alleged mishandling and attempt to cover up the murder of Mbanefo.

Addressing newsmen in Igbakwu through their lawyer Prince Christopher Muo, the community also called on Governor Chukwuma Soludo to direct the Commissioner of Homeland Security to interface with the people of the community and the family of the deceased to arrange how to provide security for the witnesses who video-recorded the alleged murder scene, and family members of the deceased who are now allegedly being threatened by those who killed their father.

The community alleged that the police in Anambra State are desperate to release the suspect, wondering what the desperation of the law enforcement agency is, to warrant the release of the suspect who was video-recorded while allegedly committing the crime, more so when the Police have not completed its Investigations.
