

CULT CLASH: Three decapitated bodies found in Ogun

By James Ogunnaike

Ogun State Police Command, yesterday, said it has discovered three bodies of young men suspected to have been killed in rival cult groups clash in an abandoned building at Abibatun Toronbi Community, Ijoko-Ota in Ado-Odo/Ota Local Government Area of the state.

Command spokesperson, SP Omolola Odutola, disclosed this in a statement.

She said a community leader from Abibatun Toronbi in Ijoko informed the police of the discovery of the bodies with machete cuts in an uncompleted building which also served as criminals hideouts in the area. Odutola added that assailants, suspected to be rival cult group members, appeared to have dealt machete blows on the young men and also cut off their left hands. Two of the deceased who were alleged to be members of Eiyé Confraternity have been identified as Memory and Rilwan.

The statement said: "A community leader in Abibatun Toronbi Community Ijoko Ogun State reported to Ijoko Police Post that on the 13th of October, 2023 three unidentified young men were found macheted (sic) to death in an abandoned building /criminal hideout within their community".
