

Ondo civil servant slumps, dies in hotel

By Dayo Johnson

A civil servant, Abiodun Akintomowo, has reportedly slumped and died in Ondo town, Ondo State, after a sex romp with his girlfriend in a hotel.

Consequently, police detectives have apprehended the suspect and the owner of the hotel where the victim died.

Confirming the ugly incident, spokesperson of state police command, Funmi Odunlami, said the deceased had a sex romp with his girlfriend, in a hotel located in the Akinjagunla area of the community.

Odunlami said "The man (deceased) was not feeling alright after the sexual intercourse with the lady in the hotel, so he was rushed to the hospital and later died. The two suspects are still in our custody."

She said investigation into the matter was ongoing while the remains of the deceased had been deposited at the hospital morgue.

An eyewitness said the girlfriend raised the alarm after the deceased collapsed in the hotel room.

According to him, "The woman raised the alarm after realising that the man collapsed. The manager of the hotel and some lodgers raced to the scene and made frantic efforts to revive him. He was later confirmed dead by the doctors who attended to him.

"The management of the hotel later reported the matter at the Yaba Divisional Police Station in the community.

Police detectives later visited the scene to evacuate the corpse of the deceased to the University of Medical Sciences morgue in Ondo town.
