

Gunmen in military uniform kill 4 in Imo

By Chinonso Alozie

The Imo State Police Command, yesterday, said unidentified gunmen had killed four persons and injured one in Abacheke, Ohaji/Egbema council area.

The state's Police Public Relations Officer, PPRO, Henry Okoye, made this known to newsmen in Owerri while reacting to the attack which occurred last Friday.

As of press time, the command was yet to give reason for the attack, but community sources linked it to a community rift that has lasted years.

However, the police said the attackers wore "military camouflage" and shot sporadically during the attack.

According to the police, "the Commissioner of Police Imo State Command, CP Aboki Danjuma, has condemned in totality the gruesome murder of four young men at Abacheke Community in Ohaji/Egbema by gunmen who were dressed in military camouflage and has deployed the command's Special Tactical Squad to go all out in synergy with other security agencies and clamp down on the hoodlums responsible for the senseless act of violence.

"While normalcy has been restored in the area, a comprehensive investigation is ongoing to fish out the hoodlums responsible for the dastardly act and make them face the full wrath of the law."
