

News

Generator fume kills woman, son in Delta

By Ochuko Akuopha

ASABA—A middle-aged woman and her son were allegedly killed by generator fume in their apartment in the Umuagwu area of Asaba, Delta State.

The deceaseds were found dead in the apartment while two others were unconscious.

Sister of the deceased, Ms Maureen, described the death of her sister as mysterious, saying she did not die of generator fumes or noodles poisoning as rumoured in the community.

She said: "The rumour that is making the round in the community that they died as a result of eating noodles or generator fumes is a lie."

Contacted, Police Public Relations Officer the state command, Mr. Bright Edefe said the information available to the police was that victims died as a result of generator fume.

"If the family has another information, they can approach the DPO, A Division," he said.