OWERRI—A 47-year-old man, Sunday Agwim, arrested by men of Imo State Police Command for smashing his 62-year-old mother's head with a hammer, has said he did not know what came upon him.

It was gathered that one security co-ordinator in Umuobom in Ideato South Local Government Area of the state, Jude Nbionwu, reported to the police that the man killed his mother, one Christiana Agwim, 62-year-old.

It was based on that information that police operatives went after him and his eventual arrest.

Confirming the arrest, state Police Public Relations Officer, Orlando Ikeokwu, said in Owerri that the suspect had made a confessional statement that he (Sunday) did not know what led him to use the hammer on the mother.

Orlando continued that: "He used hammer and machete on her head and completely grounded the head into powder; beyond recognition.

"The corpse was not taken to the mortuary because of the damage on the head.

"Rather, coroners forms were completed and a doctor from UNTH, Enugu State, conducted the autopsy to enable quick burial for the body."
