

Islamic State on Tuesday said its fighters were behind the attacks on Nigerian military posts in the Lake Chad area, claiming via its Amaq propaganda outlet that ISWAP fighters killed four soldiers and seized weapons and ammunition from the barracks in Marte, and burned the barracks in Diwka. In Kirenowa, ISIS claimed to have killed 10 soldiers and injured others.