

Abuja: Grief as Dead Body of Female Accountant of Popular Union Found Inside Car

Updated Wednesday, September 10, 2025 at 11:33 AM By Bada Yusuf 2 min read

Kasham Thomas, the female accountant of the Medical and Health Workers Union of Nigeria, was reportedly found dead inside her car in the Gwarimpa area of the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja, on Monday, September 8.

CHECK OUT: How to Start Earning with Copywriting in Just 7 Days – Even if You're a Complete Beginner

This came days after the remains of a suspected labourer were found inside another car around the national assembly building. The police were yet to ascertain the identity of the victim found at the national assembly. However, the police command in Abuja said it has begun an investigation.

Josephine Adeh, spokesperson of the federal capital territory (FCT) command, made this known on Monday, September 8. The deceased, who is suspected to be a labourer at a construction site within the complex. He was found in a red Peugeot 406 with registration number BWR-577 BF at about 9am on Sunday, September 7.

Daily Trust reported that the remains of the accountant had two stab wounds to the stomach and the chest and were discovered along the 35 Road.

READ ALSO

Death, injuries as Jehovah's Witness members travelling from Anambra to Imo have accident

According to a witness, the police in the Gwarimpa Division were alerted about the incident, adding that her family were then notified and her remains have been taken to the Kubwa General Hospital.

The deceased relative told journalists that the union's accountant had been in the Karshi community earlier in the day to pick up her children in preparation for their resumption in school.

According to the relative, she had left the community around 7 pm and "went to her home in Lugbe to drop off the children."

ATTENTION: Protect Yourself From Fake News — Learn How In Our Free Short Course. Get a Certificate!

The relative further disclosed that the deceased left the house after that and promised to return soon. It was then reported that the murder weapons at the scene were a knife and an Apple Watch, which were found inside her car with her body.

This incident was reported to have happened just one week after a Bolt Driver was found dead on the Gwarimpa-Kubwa expressway. He had a stab wound to his neck while his car was being stolen. The incident was confirmed by a police source at the Gwarinpa division.